

EXAM MATERIALS

- Candidates must write in either blue or black ink (except for multiple choice papers). Candidates should use HB pencils for drawing and for multiple choice papers.
- Candidates are required to provide items of general stationery, such as erasers, coloured pencils, rulers and geometry set.
- A magnifying glass is allowed for map work on Geography higher and standard level resources booklet.
- No dictionaries are allowed for examinations in Groups 1 and 2. A translating dictionary (i.e. one which contains word-for-word translations and no definitions) is allowed only in Groups 3 to 6 examinations. These should be checked with the IB Coordinator before the exams. Electronic dictionaries are not allowed
- Calculators are not allowed unless specifically stated as required in the subject-specific schedule below (specifications regarding the different types of calculator permitted are given below and in the Handbook of Procedures, Section J).
- No text books/note books/instruction books are to be brought into the examination room.
- Clean copies of data booklets/information booklets/case studies as listed in the subject-specific schedule below will be provided by the school. They should not be brought into the examination room by candidates.
- The use of tippex/correction fluid is not allowed.
- Rough paper can be used if candidates require it and should be provided by the school. It should not be submitted to the examiner, but should be handed in to the invigilator at the end of the examination.
- Answer sheets and 2mm square graph paper will be available to candidates for all examination papers excluding multiple choice papers. Candidates may use as many or as few sheets as they require.
- A multi-choice answer sheet will be provided for all multiple choice papers.

- The tags provided by IB Cardiff must be used to join answer sheets or examination papers to cover sheets. They should also be used to attach graph paper to the candidate's answers.