Approaching the End of the Semester

The Winter Break is just around the corner. Students and faculty members alike are looking forward for a chance to relax and spend time with family and loved ones. Please remember that semester 1 exams will take place from Thursday, December 7 through Thursday, December 14. These exams are very important and represent a major part of your son or daughter's year-end grade. Please make sure that your child comes to school well-rested and that s/he has had a good breakfast before coming to school. Help them to structure their time and to begin preparing for their exams now. Waiting until the last few days before exams to begin preparation and then staying up all night to cram is not a strategy for success. Make sure your child has plenty of sleep the night before each of his or her exams. In-school review days for the exams will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 5 and 6.

As we approach the end of the first semester, we want to thank those parents who have taken the time out of their busy schedule to attend one of the high school forums, those who take time to volunteer on one of the many school committees, support the teachers through the PTO, attend the school plays and concerts, support the teams by your attendance at the games, staying in contact with your child's teachers, and being a part of your child's education. We also want to thank you for sharing your thoughts, ideas and concerns as we work together towards school improvement and to ensure that your son or daughter has the best possible education. As a high school and as a community of learners, we cannot improve without your direct input.

Semester One Final Exam Schedule

In just a few weeks, semester one exams will begin. As mentioned in last week's Highro-Glyphics, students are expected to be at each of their exams and to begin their preparation as soon as possible. The exam schedule is as follows:

Campus Closed

The campus will be closed on Wednesday, November 22 at 5:00 p.m. until Friday, November 24 at 6:00 p.m. in order to set up for the Christmas Bazaar. Thank you for your understanding and patience.

New High School ID Cards

To help the monitoring of students coming and going from the campus, high school students in grades 9 – 11 have been issued with new green ID cards, in place of the previous burgundy cards. Grade 12 students (seniors) previously received yellow cards. The new color coded ID cards will help improve security and help the guards check for students with off-campus privileges.
